

MUNICIPAL REPORT

The following report, initially issued 48 hours after the weather event or other major event has exited the JCP&L service territory, contains information that is current as of the date and time indicated. Portions of the information set forth below are estimated based on currently available information, and are subject to change in subsequent reports based on more complete or up-to-date information, or as additional information becomes available. Information regarding the number of customers without power is also subject to change due to the impact of any new outage conditions that may arise subsequent to the original weather event. Restoration projections regarding the number of customers to be restored each day until restoration is completed are estimated based on planned restoration work and estimated times for restoration (ETRs). Estimates beyond the first two days are preliminary and subject to change due to the inherent uncertainties associated with longer projections.
